

Charles Argersinger

Program notes

Shells

Shells is a continuous three-movement work for solo trumpet that focuses attention on the element of irrationality as a compositional strategy for engaging the listener's interest in an otherwise tightly organized emotional fabric. Volatile shifts of melodic motive, dynamic, tempo, and rhythmic construction are designed to reflect this facet of human experience.